This millennium, city has posed an alarm as it has become unsafe and daunting with increasing crime rate and regular road rage. The principal of good governance in Gurgaon continues to swell every year.

Soteria Command Centre provides high end security with its top technology and split second response. Talking about a safe city, Brig Rajan Oberoi, Group CEO, Tenon said, "With more than half the global population today living in urban areas, safety is increasingly being considered essential in ensuring a relaxed living and prosperity. We are now in the phase that we are moving away from plain security and into an arena where there is a greater amalgamation of man and machine. Soteria, our remote monitoring command center, with its predictive and preventive component, is a safety driver, which can enhance security of life and property in the city.

Soteria is the solution incarnate to security threats. It employs cutting edge hardware backed by sophisticated analytical tools that take a proactive response for Risk Elimination and Prevention (REAP).

The command centre is equipped to perform a number of analytical functions such as situational awareness of a location, facial recognition & activity of object such as abandoned luggage in a monitored space and is also able to function as a day-to-day operations resource.
